BE IT REMEMBERED, That on the twenty-ninth day of December, A. D. 1828, in the fifty-third year of the Independence of the United States of America, Hilliard Gray, Little and Wilkins, of the said district, have deposited in this office the title of a book, the right whereof they claim as proprietors, in the words following, to wit :

“ Italian Pocket Dictionary: in two parts: I. Italian and English:—II. English and Italian; preceded by an Italian Grammar. By C. Graglia. First American, from the Fourteenth London Edition, with Corrections and Additions.”

In conformity to the act of the Congress of the United States, entitled, “ An Act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of maps, charts, and books, to the authors and proprietors of such copies during the times therein mentioned ;” and also to an act, entitled, “ An Act supplementary to an act, entitled, An Act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of maps, charts, and books, to the authors and proprietors of such copies during the times therein mentioned ; and extending the benefits thereof to the arts of designing, engraving, and etching, historical and other prints.”

THE general approbation with which this valuable little Dictionary has been received ; the rapidity with which fourteen editions have been exhausted in England ; and its universal adoption by instructors in this country, are a sufficient recommendation of the work. Many errors of accentuation, orthography, &c. had, however, found their way into the text, which has been carefully revised, and compared with those of Alberti, Barberi, &c.

In a Pocket Dictionary of so copious a language as the Italian, a complete vocabulary is not to be expected. In order to make the additions to this part of the work more useful, the texts of the classics most commonly read by beginners were examined, and such words and idioms inserted from them, as were not contained in the former editions.* The works used for this purpose were the Scelta from Goldoni, Notti Romane, Gerusalemme Liberata, the Tragedie of Monti, Prose Italiane, and Poesie Italiane, compiled for the use of Harvard University, &c.

* These additions amount to about three thousand articles.

The Grammar, which is quite a useful compend, has been enlarged by some additions respecting articles, gender, number, &c.

K and so are only used in foreign names. C supplies k, and so is changed into u before a vowel, and v before a consonant.

X is commonly changed into a, se, and sometimes ce :—Xerxes, Sera; Alexander, Alessandro; excellent, eccellente.

Ph becomes f :—Philosopher, filosofo.

OBSERVATIONS

On the letters a, e, i, and j; o, u, and v; c, g, h, s, t, z, m, and n.

N. B. For the sake of simplicity and brevity, the translation of the Italian words has been dispensed with, wherever it was judged not to be absolutely wanted. Should any meaning become necessary to the reader, the Dictionary is at hand.

A is always sounded broad, like a in alarm, father; thus, padre, madre, amare. But a with an accent at the end of words has a quick, sharp sound; thus the a in calamità, calamity, is sharper than it is in calamità, a loadstone.

E has generally a close sound, as in the English words pen, fen; thus, maledire, credo. But sometimes it is open, as in there; thus, bella, bene, cielo. No sure rule can be given on this point.

I sounds like double e in sleep:—diritto, cirivvella.

J is always a vowel in the Italian, and sounds like i, but somewhat longer, as y in the English word yield. Its chief use is to form the plural of nouns in to short, that is, pronounced in one syllable; as tempio, temple, tempi; principio, beginning, principi; which otherwise would be confounded with tempo, from tempo, time; and principi from principe, prince. It is also employed by some grammarians in the tenses of verbs where two i should meet; but this ought to be done only when the two i form but one syllable, as chi'io studi, che tu studi, &c. but not to sentj, io udj, in which words the letters i form two distinct syllables.

O sounds sometimes open, as in the English word not:—potero, populo, iddio:—Sometimes close, as in English note:—tornamento, volere. Practice alone can teach the difference.

U has always the sound of u, as in the English word rule, or of oo in moon:—amico, pubblico, nudrire.

U before o, in the same syllable, is pronounced faintly:—buono, fuoco, uomini. Except in duo, suo, virtuoso, in which the u has its full sound, because then the u and the o form two distinct syllables. In any other case, vowels combined together form but one sound, as in vist, suoi, suoi.

V, which is a real consonant, is pronounced as the English v:—vero, tavola, vela.

C before a, o, u, sounds like k; as in casa, collo, cura.

C before e, i, sounds like ch in the English words child, chess:—ciccone, cenico, cornice. In this case, when two c meet, the first takes the sound of a soft j; thus, accanto, accidenti, read alchento, alchisanti.

When after c follows another vowel, as cia, cie, cio, cius, they must be pronounced in one syllable, and the i has a faint sound:—ciencia, cielo, cicca, ciorra.

Ch sounds k:—chiado, chioma, chimico, che, che, read kiado, kioma, kimico, &c.

G before a, o, u, sounds as in English:—gamba, gobbo, gusta.

G before e and i has the sound of dj, as found in the soft g of the English words gender, giant:—genio, gesto, giro.

Gia, gio, gu, are pronounced dgia, dgio, dgju, in one syllable, and the i has a faint sound:—Giacio, giostra, giubba.

Gna, gue, gni, guo, gnu, cannot be represented by English sounds; they are pronounced like the French words Espagne, mignon, torgner:—Campagna, agnello, incognito, ignudo.

G before h has a liquid sound, which the English language has not, except, perhaps, in the word million. It is nearer the French words file, bouillon, famille:—Figlio, migliori, medaglia. But it keeps the English sound in the words Anglicano, negligere, negligente, negligenza, negletto, and its other derivatives.

GG. When two gg come together before e or i, the first g has the soft sound of d, as in the English word edge:—oggetto, oggi.

The letter A between g and e, i, strengthens the sound, which becomes then as the English words get, gift:—Ghiaccio, ghigno, botteghe, gheppio.

Hence it appears that the letter A, although it has no sound of itself, contributes to alter the sounds of other letters, namely, e and g. For thus, che, chi, and ghe, ghi, by the interposition of an A, lose the sounds of ce, ci, ge, gi. It also serves to distinguish some words alike in sound, though different in meaning: as hanno, they have, and anno, year; ha, he has, and the preposition a, to; hai, thou hast, and ai, to the.—Many persons write now these words and some others without the A; thus, ò, à, à, anno, instead of ho, hai, ha, hanno.

S. This letter has two sounds, one strong, with some hissing, and the other soft, somewhat like s. It is pronounced strong in the beginning of words, as in English, safety, money:—sopere, sunto, sermo, subilo. It is commonly soft between two vowels: as in caso, gusto, tenore, rosa. Likewise before d, g, t, m, n, r, v; as sdegno, sguardo, scolare, disviare. Yet it sounds harsh in cost, thus; si, yes; and rosa, rosa, from the verb rodere, to gnaw.

Sc before a, o, u, sounds sha, sho, shu; thus, scaltro, scolare, scusa.

ITALIAN TONGUE.

71

Sc before e, i, sounds like sh, in the English word these—scena, scinto.

The sounds scia, scio, scio, sciu, form one syllable only, and the i has a faint sound:—sciatista, scienza, sciòto.

S is pronounced as in English. It was anciently used in some words derived from Latin, as nations, gratia; but the present orthography is z.

Z and ZZ. This letter, as well single as double, has two sounds; one strong, like z in beasts, and the other soft, like ds in Windsor. The strong sound is the most general: thus, for nozze, fazzoletto, bellezza, zanna, zio, zuccon, read notse, fazzoletto, &c.

The sound is generally soft in the words ending in enza, enza, enza; and in those words, which, in Latin, and in English words derived from the Latin, are written with a z, a c, or a t, pronounced like a soft c. Thus, for costanza, prudenza, Magonza, Lazaro, azzurro, zodisco, read costanza, prudenza, &c.

No certain rule can be given to distinguish when the z is soft, and when harsh; for, although most words written with a double zz have a strong sound, many of them, however, have a soft sound; such are rezzo, mezzo, &c.

The double consonants must be distinctly pronounced. Thus in reading innocenzo, innocenza, addio, rebelle, attentare, read in-noc-en-zo, in-noc-en-za, ad-dio, re-bel-le, at-tent-a-re.

CHAPTER II.

ACCENTS, APOSTROPHE, AND ELISION.

THERE are two accents in Italian, the grave (̀) and the acute (´).

Grave accent.—It is put on nouns in à and ò, which have the singular and plural alike; as, bellà, bonà, virtù, gioventù. Such nouns ended formerly in ade and ate, ude and ute, and they are still used in poetry.

2. On the third person singular of the preterperfect tense of verbs, of which the first person ends in two vowels; thus, amò, credè, from amai, credes. But write without the grave accent vinse, prese, from vinsi, presi.

3. On the first and third person singular of every verb in the future tense; thus, amerò, amerà, crederò, crederà, sentirò, sentirà.

4. To make a distinction between words alike in orthography, but different in signification; as, là, li, there, la, the and her, lì, the and they; dà, he gives, da, from; di, day, di, of; sì, yes and so, si, one's self; è, he is, e, and; però, therefore, pera, a pear-tree, &c. &c.

Some other words are also written with the grave accent, such as più, more, giù, below, così, thus, cò, there, così, thus, giù, already, ciò, that which; with many others, which practice will teach.

5. When a word, having the grave accent, is joined to another word, the consonant of the latter word must be doubled, and the accent be taken off; thus dà and dà, joined to mi, become dimmi, tell me, dammi give me; farò and lo are made farol- lo, I will do it; più and così become piuttosto, sooner, &c. &c.

Acute accent.—This accent is used only on the s of words ending in so and sa, whenever lo and so are pronounced in two distinct syllables; as, passia, dario, galleria, addis.

Some writers use it likewise on words which have a double signification; as, tender, to hold, tenere, tender; anchor, again, ancora, an anchor; nectar, nectar, nettare, to cleanse, &c. but this nicety is not strictly observed now, unless the sentence should offer an ambiguous meaning.

Apostrophe and Elision.—The apostrophe is a mark to show that one or more letters are cut off; and the elision is the cutting off of those letters. They are used in the following cases:

1. After the articles lo, la, li, gli, le, and their oblique cases, before words that begin with a vowel, or when they are abbreviated; as, l'anima, Ponore, de' libri, a' padri, &c. with the exceptions noticed in the following chapter.

Yet, in poetry, several licences are taken, and we find lo amore, lo eccesso, lo imperadore, lo ingiustolo; and even l'ingiusto, l'imperadore.

The t of the article ti is cut off after a word ending with a vowel, but not the vowel of that word; as, tutto 'l paese; mi dica 'l suo nome.

2. Mi, ti, ci, vi, me, si, di, receive the apostrophe before a vowel; as, voi m'intendete, egli l'intende, s'ingannate, &c. However, ci suffers no abbre-vision before a and u, in order to avoid a harsh pronunciation.

3. The words which have the grave accent, as, dàro, farò, felicità, &c. are never abbreviated, except ché, with its compounds, perché, benché, stiché, &c. perch' era, bench' andasse, &c.

4. These six words, uno, bello, grande, santo, quello, buono, before masculine nouns that begin with a consonant, are abridged thus; un, bel, gran, sant, quel, buon;—and before vowels;—un, bell', grand', sant', quell', buon'; as, un libro, un bel fibro, gran cavallo, San Pietro, quel soldato, buon pane,—un amico, bell' uomo, grand' ingegno, Sant' Antonio, quell' amore, buon' oratore.

But none of these words are abridged, by correct writers, before feminine nouns, except grande; as, gran barca, grand' armata.

Observe also, that neither these words, nor any others, should be abridged before an s impure, that is, an s followed by a consonant; as, specchio, studio, &c.; therefore write bello specchio, quello stu- dio, &c. Contrary examples are to be met wth h, but they are incorrect.

5. All words in the singular number, which have one of the liquid consonants, l, m, n, r, before their final vowel, may lose their final vowel, unless before words that begin with a followed by a consonant.—Vowels are seldom lost in the plural number.—The vowels after l and r are oftener lost than those after m and n: except in verbs, for then the vowel after m is very often cut off: as, attendiam, andiam, fuggiam, &c. for attendiamo, &c.

6. Infinitives, joined to mi, ti, ci, vi, si, ne, lo, la, le, gli, or any other word to which they are united, drop their final e; thus, per vederlo, sentireti, pentirti, &c. instead of per vederlo, sentire te, pentire ci.

As to minute exceptions concerning the apostrophe and elision, they must be left to practice, or to larger treatises. This was thought enough for our present plan with young students.

CHAPTER III.

NOUNS: Gender; Number.

I. GENDER.

1. Of nouns in e, some are masculine, and some are feminine.

2. Nouns in o are masculine; except la mano, the hand.

3. Nouns in a are feminine; except a few Greek nouns; as il tema, the theme.

4. Nouns in i are feminine; except di, day; its compounds, givedì, &c. and a few others.

5. Nouns in u are feminine.

II. NUMBER.

1. General Rules.

Masculine nouns make their plural in i.

Feminine nouns in a form it in e.

Nouns in o or e form it in i.

Nouns ending with an accented vowel, or with i, or with ie, are invariable; except magie, maghi.

2. Particular Rules.

Masculine nouns change

	Sing.	Plur.
a into i	dramma	drammi
o " i	padre	padri

M masculine nouns change

	Sing.	Plur.
o into i	fratello	fratelli
io " i	tempo	tempi
to " i	natio	nati
chio " chi	occhio	occhi
glio " gli	periglio	perigli
cio " ci	bacio	baci
gio " gi	agio	agi
asio " ai	portinatio	portinai
ca " ci	duca	duchi
co " ci	cuoco	cuochi
go " gi	luogo	luoghi

Many polysyllables in co and go, after a vowel, have ci and gi in the plural.

Feminine nouns change

	Sing.	Plur.
a into e	casa	case
e " i	madre	madi
o " i	mano	mani
cia " ce	faccia	face
gia " ge	bragia	brage
gia " gie	bugia	bugie
ga " ghe	verga	verghe
ca " che	parca	parche

Invariable Terminations.

	Sing. & Plur.
à	bontà
è	piè
ì	crisì
ù	virtù
é	spécie

3. Exceptions.

Sing.	Plur.
Dio	Dei
uomo	uomini
bee	bee

Sing.Plur.

miglio	migliaia
migliàio	centinàia
centinàio	mila
mille	uova
uovo	legni, legne, legna
legno	gesti, geste, gesta
gesto	ossi, ossa, ossa
osso	vestigi, vestige, vestigie
vestigio

Many nouns in o make the plural in a and i: as,
andello anelli, anella

The form in a in these nouns is feminine.

CHAPTER IV.

ARTICLES.

The Italians have three definite articles, il, lo, la.

	Singular.
	Masculine.	Feminine.
Nominative	il	lo	la
Genitive	del	dello	della
Dative	al	allo	alla
Accusative	il	lo	la
Abiative	dal	dallo	dalla
		Plural.
Nominative	i	gli	lo
Genitive	dei	de'	degli
Dative	ai	a'	agli
Accusative	i	gli	lo
Abiative	dai	da'	dagli

I. The definite article il is used before masculine nouns which begin with a consonant.—Book, libro.

Singular.	Plural.
N. il libro	i libri
G. del libro	dei or de' libri
D. al libro	ai or a' libri
A. il libro	i libri
Ab. dal libro	dai or da' libri

II. The definite article lo is used before masculine nouns which begin with an s followed by a consonant, and sometimes before nouns beginning with z.—Study, studio. Zeal, zelo.

Singular.	Plural.
N. lo studio	gli studj
G. dello studio	degli studj
D. allo studio	agli studj
A. lo studio	gli studj
Ab. dallo studio	dagli studj

III. The definite article la is used before feminine nouns which begin with a consonant.—House, casa.

Singular.	Plural.
N. la casa	le case
G. della casa	delle case
D. alla casa	alle case
A. la casa	le case
Ab. dalla casa	dalle case

IV. The article lo before a vowel.—Friend, amico.

Singular.	Plural.
N. l'amico	gli amici
G. dell' amico	degli amici
D. all' amico	agli amici
A. l'amico	gli amici
Ab. dall' amico	dagli amici

V. The article la before a vowel.—Soul, anima.

Singular.	Plural.
N. l'anima	le anime
G. dell' anima	delle anime
D. all' anima	alle anime
A. l'anima	le anime
Ab. dall' anima	dalle anime

VI. Nouns are also declined with the indefinite article uno, una, for the singular masculine, and una for the feminine: alcuni, m. and alcune, f. for the plural.

The prepositions di, a, da, de, are used in the indirect case. Di is made d' before a vowel, and a is made ad in the same circumstance; de suffers no change.

VII. Uno is used before masculine nouns, beginning with s, followed by another consonant.

Singular.	Plural.
N. uno scolare	alcuni scolari
G. d'uno scolare	d'alcuni scolari
D. ad uno scolare	ad alcuni scolari
A. uno scolare	alcuni scolari
Ab. da uno scolare	da alcuni scolari

VIII. Un is used before other masculine nouns.

Singular.	Plural.
N. un libro	alcuni libri
G. d'un libro	d'alcuni libri
D. ad un libro	ad alcuni libri
A. un libro	alcuni libri
Ab. da un libro	da alcuni libri

IX. Una, feminine.

Singular.	Plural.
N. una donna	alcune donne
G. d'una donna	d'alcune donne
D. ad una donna	ad alcune donne
A. una donna	alcune donne
Ab. da una donna	da alcune donne

X. Nouns without an article are thus declined :

Beginning with a consonant.	Beginning with a vowel.
N. Roma	N. Avignone
G. di Roma	G. d'Avignone
D. a Roma	D. ad Avignone
A. Roma	A. Avignone
Ab. da Roma	Ab. da Avignone

Remarks.—1. The article lo is never abridged in the plural, unless the following noun begin with an t. Therefore write gli ingegni, gli instrumenti, but gli amori, gli onori.

2. The article la is never abridged in the plural, unless the following word begin with an e, as le passioni; but write le ombre, le anime, le invenzioni, &c. However, some nouns beginning with s, which end alike in the singular and the plural, receive the article le without an apostrophe. Thus write le effigie, the images, to distinguish it from its singular, l'effigie, the image.

3. Whenever the prepositions con, in, sul, per, in the sense of with, in, upon, for, or by, meet with the definite articles il, lo, la, they are altered, as will be seen in the following table:—nel for in il; nello for in lo, &c. The Italian words printed in Italics have become obsolete.

Singular.	Plural.
Nel , nello ; nella ,	{ nel or ne' , negli ; nelle , in the
Col , collo ; colla ,	{ col or co' , con gli or co- gli ; colle , colla the
Sul , sullo ; sulla ,	{ sul or sul , sugli ; sulle , upon the
Per , pello ; pello ,	{ pell , pei or pe' , per gli ; pelle , for the

As, nel giardino, nello spirito, nella camera, ne' giardini, negli spiriti, nelle camere, &c.

4. When the prepositions in, per and con, and also the particle non, meet with a word beginning with an s followed by a consonant, an i is added to the word, for the sake of pronunciation. Therefore, instead of in strada, con spavento, non stare, you will find in istrada, con spavento, non istare

CHAPTER V.

ADJECTIVES.—COMPARATIVES.—SUPERLATIVES.—AUGMENTATIVES.—DIMINUTIVES.

Adjectives.—All the Italian adjectives end either in o or in e.

The adjectives in o form their feminine singular in a, their masculine plural in i, and their feminine plural in e.

The adjectives ending in a, in the singular, form their plural in i, and they have the masculine and feminine alike in both numbers; as,

Dotto, ma. dotta, fa. dotti, mp. dotte, fp. learned.
Cortese, m. and l. sing. cortesi, m. and f. plur. civil.

Adjectives always agree in gender and number with their substantives; as,

Un signore dotto e cortese—una donna dotta e cortese.

Signori dotti e cortesi—donne dotte e cortesi.

Un prato verde; una gonna verde; i prati verdi; le gonne verdi; meadow, gown.

Comparatives.—Adjectives become comparatives with the assistance of più, meno, and meno, less; thus, caro, dear; più caro, dearer; meno caro, less dear.

The particles via or via; assai, molto, in the sense of much, a great deal; are often added to comparatives, to increase their energy; as, Cesare è stato via più, or assai più, or molto più, felice di Pompeo; Cesar was much more fortunate than Pompey.

La sorella è via meno, or assai meno, or molto meno ostinata del fratello; the sister is far less obstinate than the brother.

The word than after comparatives, followed by an article, or a pronoun possessive, is expressed in Italian by del, della, della, dei, degli, delle, suitable to the gender and number of the noun; as,

L'Asia è più popolata dell' Europa; Asia is more populous than Europe.

Questo giardino è meno largo dell' vostro; this garden is not so large as yours.

The word than followed by an article, or before proper names, is rendered by di; as,

Cicerone era più eloquente di Hortensio; Cicero was more eloquent than Hortensius.

Sono meno ricco di voi; I am not so rich as you.

When the comparison is made between adjectives, adverbs, verbs, or substantives, without articles, than is rendered by che; as,

Mia sorella è più gentile che bella; my sister is more graceful than pretty.

Questo mi darà più fatica che profitto; this will give me more trouble than profit.

Egli parlava più dottamente che garbatamente; he spoke more learnedly than politely.

Superlatives.—The superlatives are formed by changing the last vowel of the adjective into issimo, with the variation of other adjectives in gender and number; as,

Dott-o, learned; dottissimo, dottissima, dottissimi, dottissime, most learned.

But if the article the be joined to most, then the superlative is expressed by il più, la più, il più, la più; as, il più felice, la più felice, il più felice, la più felice; the happiest, or the most happy.

Sometimes the repetition of the positive is enough to form a superlative; as,

Il tempo è freddo freddo; the weather is very cold.

Sofia è la bella delle belle; Sophia is the finest woman in the world.

Questo mi sembra tedioso tedioso; I think this most tiresome.

The following adjectives are irregular in the formation of their comparatives and superlatives:

Positive.	Comparative.	Superlative.
Buono, good,	migliore, better,	ótimo, the best.
Cattivo, bad,	peggiore, worse,	pejímo, the worst.
Grande, great,	maggiore, greater,	piésimo, the greatest.
Piccolo, little,	minore, less,	minésimo, the least.

One may likewise say, più grande, più cattivo, più piccolo.

Observe that miglio and peggio, in the sense of a better, in a coarse manner, are adverbs, and cannot be joined to substantives. Therefore say, sen migliore libro, a better book; sen peggiore tempero, a worse penknife; and not miglio, peggio. But say, farà meglio, farà peggio, he will do better, worse.

Adverbs of the superlative degree are formed by changing the last letter of the adjectives into issimamente; as from dotta, learned, is formed dottissimamente, most learnedly; from santo, holy, assettimamente, most holily, &c. but this manner of expressing one's self must be used cautiously; and, instead of such long words, it is better to employ substantives. Thus, for eloquentissimamente, imprudéntissimamente; say, rather, con massima eloquenza; con grandissima imprudenza.

Augmentatives and Diminutives.—The signification of many nouns, both substantives and adjectives, may be either increased or diminished, by the addition of certain syllables to their termination.

1. The augmentatives, reducible to rules, are formed in one, m. ona, f. otta, m. otta, f. to signify bigness and stoutness, in a good sense.

Likewise in accio, m. accia, f. to signify something of a disgusting or contemptible bulk.

The addition onne expresses a great abundance of any thing.

EXAMPLES.

Libro, book; librone, a very large book.
Ragazza, f. a girl; ragazzona, a stout, jolly girl.
Casa, a house; casotto, casotta, a good, roomy house.

Sala, a parlor; salotto, a good sitting room.
Canallo, a horse; canallaccio, a great ugly horse.
Casa, a house; casaccia, an ugly, large house.
Genie, people; geniarne, a great crowd of people.

Observe that many nouns have a natural ending in accio, accio, and enne, without being augmentatives.

Observe, also, that the augmentatives masculines often come from feminine nouns, as cacone, m. from case, f.

2. The diminutives, reducible to rules, are formed in ino, ello, etto, with the variations incident to adjectives and substantives in o; as,

Carino, ms. carina, fa. carinis, mp. carinis, fp. dear, prettino little creature, or creature.

Poverello, poverella, poverelli, poverelle, poor, little creature, or creature.

Libretto, a pretty little book. Acquatta, a clear, small stream.—Such diminutives denote, generally, endearment, and smallness.

Other diminutives, ending chiefly in uccio, uccio, and uzzo, uzzo, indicate something small or contemptible; as,

Caruccio, a small, mean-looking house.

Uomuzzo, a puny little fellow.

Yet all these rules are liable to exceptions, which nothing but practice can teach; for, besides the terminations which we have just given for augmentatives and diminutives, many other are freely used in familiar conversation, and in books on light subjects. Thus, from domna, a woman; casa, a house; libro, a book; may be formed the following augmentatives and diminutives:

Domone, a tall, stout, masculine woman.

Domona, a tall, strong, healthful woman.

Domaccia, an impudent, shameless virago.

Domietta, a pretty, little, prattling woman.

Domucciudia, a mean-looking little woman.

Domucina, a pretty little woman.

Domaccia, a vulgar woman.

Domaccione, a bold, impudent, stout woman.

Caone, a very large house, a mansion.

Caedicia, a large, ill-contrived house.

Casamento, a well-built, roomy house.

Casalone and casolare, a large, ruinous house.

Casolaraccia, a large, roofless, decayed house.

Caruciaccia, a small, wretched house.

Caripola and caripola, a small, despicable house.

Castie, a poor, thatched cottage.

Casella, a small, low-built house.

Casotta, a snug, comfortable house.

Casetta, a snug house, also a neat kennel.

Casettina, a very little, but genteel house.

Casettino, m. casettina, f. a neat, pretty cot.

Casina, a very small house.

Casino, a small, neat summer-house.

Librose, a bulky, heavy book.

Libraccio, an ugly, large book.

Libricolo and libricolo, a small, contemptible pamphlet.

Libretto, a pretty, neat, little book.

Librettino, a very little and pretty book.

Libricino, a very small pamphlet.

And so on, with thousands of other words, in all the range of humour and whims; but few augmentatives and diminutives are admitted in a style strictly correct, beyond those in one, ame, acco, for increasing, and those in ino, etto, ello, for diminishing.

CHAPTER VI.

PRONOUNS Personal; Possessive; Relative; Demonstrative; Indeterminate.

PRONOUNS PERSONAL.

We present here together the pronouns personal, both conjunctive and disjunctive; upon which some remarks will be made in the course of this chapter.

First Person, Singular.

Io, I

Di me, of me

A me, me, to me

Me, me, me

Da me, from me

Second Person, Singular.

Tu, thou

Di te, of thee

A te, to thee

Te, thou

Da te, from thee

Third Person, Masculine, Singular.

Egli, ei, è, esso, he, it

Di lui, of him

A lui, gli, il, to him

Lui, lo, il, him, it

Da lui, from him

Plural.

Noi, we

Di noi, of us

A noi, ci, me, to us

Noi, ci, me, us

Da noi, from us

Plural.

Voi, you

Di voi, of you

A voi, vi, to you

Voi, vi, you

Da voi, from you

Plural.

Egliino, ei, è, essi, they

Di loro, of them

A loro, loro, to them

Loro, gli, li, them

Da loro, from them

ACCIDENCE OF THE

Third Person Feminine Singular.

Essa, essa, she, it
Di lei, of her
A lei, to her
Lei, le, her, it
Da lei, from her

There are several other forms of this pronoun, chiefly poetical. Thus, ella, ella, ei, 't for egli; ella

Plural.

Elleno, esse, they
Di loro, of them
A loro, to them
Loro, le, them
Da loro, from them

and elleno for eglino; la for ella; ella for elleno; ella for lui; elli for loro; elle for lei; and elli for loro, l.

The reflected pronoun se, one's self, is of all genders and numbers:

Di se, of one's self, himself, herself, itself, themselves
A se, to, to one's self, himself, herself, &c.
Se, of, one's self, himself, herself, &c.
Da se, from one's self, himself, herself, &c.

This pronoun acquires still more strength and elegance by the addition of stesso, stessa, stesso, stessa, which are also often joined to the other personal pronouns—per se stesso, per se stessa, per se stesso, per se stessa, by himself, herself, &c. Lo farò da me stesso, I will do it myself.

With me, with thee, with herself, herself, &c. take the Latin turn, and are expressed by meo, tuo, suo, &c.

Esso is sometimes placed with the preposition con and a pronoun personal, and it is masculine and feminine, as is its plural essi; thus, con esso lui, with him; con esso lei, with her; con essi loro, with them, men or women.

UNION of the conjunctive pronouns mi, ti, si, gli, ci, vi, loro, with the pronouns lo, la, li, le, and se, in the sense of some, a part of, of it, &c.

Melo mela meli mela * dard, he will give it to me, them to me, &c.
Tho tela teli tela * mandard, he will send it to thee, &c.
Ghelo ghelo gheli ghelo * dard, I will give it to him, &c.
Selo sela seli seli * procurard, he will procure it to himself, &c.
Celo cela celi cele * dard, he will tell it to us, &c.
Velo vela veli vele * procurard, I will procure it to you, &c.

The ancients used ghelo for ghelo, ghela, gheli; and sometimes gheno for ghelo, ghela, gheli, and ghieno.

PRONOUNS POSSESSIVE.

The articles show sufficiently the gender and number.

Singular.

Il mio la mia
Il tuo la tua
Il suo la sua
Il nostro la nostra
Il vostro la vostra
Il loro la loro

Il mio libro, my book.

La sua casa, his or her house.

Before nouns of relation, or quality, in the singular number, the definite article is not wanted, but it must be used with the plural number; as,

Mia sorella, di mia sorella, my sister.

Vostro fratello, di vostro fratello, your brother.

Plural.

i miei le mie, my, mine.
i tuoi le tue, thy, thine.
i suoi le sue, his, her, its.
i nostri le nostre, our, ours.
i vostri le vostre, your, yours.
i loro le loro, their, theirs.

I nostri libri, our books.

Le nostre case, our houses.

But say, le mie sorelle, i vostri fratelli. The pronoun may, however, be transposed, and then the article is used; as, il fratello mio, la sorella mia.

Observe also, that all possessive pronouns agree in English with the possessor of a thing, but in Italian, always with the thing possessed; as, mio fratello ama sua moglie e le sue sorelle, my brother loves his wife and his sisters. Mia sorella ama suo marito, ed i suoi fratelli, my sister loves her husband and her brothers.

PRONOUNS RELATIVE.

All pronouns have a relative signification, but the following ones are peculiarly so called.

Singular and Plural; Masculine and Feminine.

Che; di che, di chi, or di cui; a che, a chi, or a cui; da che, or da chi; that, who, which; of whom, whose, of which, &c.; as, ho donna che te-de, the lady whom, that, you see. Il signore che vi parlava, the gentleman who, that, was speaking to you. I libri che comprò, the books that, which, he bought. Le case che sono larghe, the houses that, which, are large.

Di cui, after a noun, is susceptible of an elegant transposition; as, Il signore di di cui padre, or il cui padre, or il padre di cui conosceva, the gentleman whose father you know.

La dama la di cui madre, or la cui madre, or la madre di cui avete veduta, the lady whose mother you saw.

I soldati al di cui capitano, or al cui capitano, or al capitano di cui parlavano, the soldiers to the captain of whom we spoke.

It, or la quale, sing. l, or le quali, pl., who, which, is applied to persons or things.

In interrogative phrases, chi, who? is applied to persons, che, what? to things, and quale to either.

PRONOUNS DEMONSTRATIVE.

Questo, ma, questa, fa, questi, mp. queste, fp. this, these.

Quello, m. quella, f. quelli, m. quelle, f. that, those.

Costui, m. costei, f. costoro, m. and f. this, these; he, she, they.

Costui, m. costei, f. coloro, m. and f. that, those; he, she, they.

Quello is made quel before a consonant; and quello is often contracted into quel.—Questi, in the sense of quello, quelli, is singular and plural.

Qui and là are sometimes added to give more strength to the pronouns; as, questo qui, this one here; quello là, that one there.

Questi and quelli are often used in the singular number; as, questi fù felice, quegli sfortunato, this man was happy, and that unfortunate.

Cotesto, cotesta, cotesti, coteste, in the sense of this, these, are still in use; but costesti, this man, and costoro, these or those, have become obsolete. Colesti, colesti, &c. is a corruption of cotesti.

PRONOUNS INDETERMINATE OR INDEFINITE.

Ogni, m. and f. sing. each, every.—Tutto, tutta, tutt, tutte, signifies all, every one, a totality.

Ciascheduno, ciascheduna, ciascheduni, ciascheduna; and ciascuno, ciascuna, ciascuno, ciascuna, every one, every body.

Qualche, m. and f. sing. some; and in the plural, alcuni, m. alcune, f. some.

Alcuno, alcuna, alcuni, alcune; and qualcuno, qualcuna, qualcuno, qualcuno, somebody, some one.

Nessuno, nessuna, nessuno, nessuna; and niuno, niuna, niuni, niuna, nobody, no one.

Certo, certa, certi, certe, some, some one; a certain one, certain ones.

Tale, m. and f. sing. tal, m. and f. plural, such, such another, such others.

Chiunque, m. and f. sing. whosoever, whoever.

Qualunque, m. and f. sing. whatever.

Qualsioglia, m. and f. sing. whatsoever, any.

Nè, some, of it, of these.

Altro, altra, altri, altre, other, others; which makes altrui, in its oblique cases; as, d'altrui, ad altrui; of other and others, to other and others. Altri is often used in the singular instead of altro; altri ride, altri piange, one laughs and the other cries.

Si, one, people, men, they; as, si dice, one says, people say, it is said.

Detached Observations on the Pronouns.

1. Ci and oi, which signify us, to us; you, to you, when they are personal pronouns, are likewise adverbs, in the sense of here and there.

2. Nè, without any accent, is sometimes a personal pronoun which signifies us, to us; sometimes an indeterminate pronoun, in the sense of some, any, of it, of them, &c. But nè, with the grave accent, signifies not, nor, neither; and no', with an apostrophe, is an abbreviation of no', in the; no' campi, in the fields

2. Si, an indeterminate pronoun, in the sense of one, people, men, they, is of extensive use in Italian,

Si dicono incredibili cose,
Si sono prese molte navi,
Non si parla di pace,
Se ne saprà qualche cosa,
Vi si domanda del pane,

as will appear by the following examples. Si is written se, when it meets with ne.

*They say incredible things.
They have taken many ships.
They say nothing of peace.
We will hear something of it.
They ask you bread.*

With many other turns which we shall have occasion to notice more at large in our observations on passive verbs.

Essential remark.—When the Italians wish to shew a particular regard, they make use of the third person of the verb, instead of the second; that is, the third person singular, when they address one person only, and the third person plural, if they speak to many people. In such a case, ella, lei, or sometimes vostra signoria takes the place of voi; and sua di vostra, for the singular, applied to men and women. Lor signori, masculine and feminine, supply the second person plural. Vosignoria is an abbreviation of vostra signoria, and lor signori, of le signorie loro; but ella or lei are now more fashionable than vostra signoria.

This manner of speaking will become quite familiar, if we accustom ourselves to the idea that we are speaking of a person, instead of speaking to her, as will appear in the transposition of the following pronoun.

Singular, Masculine and Feminine.

Ella or lei, she—you, sir, or madam.
Di lei, of her—you, sir, or madam.
A lei, le, to her—to you, sir, or madam.
La, her—you, sir, or madam.
Da lei, from her—you, sir, or madam.

Plural, Masculine and Feminine.

Lor signori, they—you, gentlemen and ladies.
Di lor signori, of them—you, gentlemen and ladies.
A lor signori, to them—to you, gentlemen and ladies.
Lor signori, le, them—you, gentlemen and ladies.
Da lor signori, from them—from you, gentlemen and ladies.

The following examples will render these observations plainer:—

Non può far meglio, vostra signoria, per distrarsi dagl' impacci, che viaggiar l' Italia. Se ella entrerà da Venezia, vedrà una città unica al mondo, per la sua situazione; ma non sarà questa l' unica cosa che la sorprenderà.

Ferrara le farà vedere una bella e vasta solitudine.

Bologna presenterà a suoi occhi un altro bel prospecto.

Non si scordi di Modena, come patria dell' illustre Muratori.

Buon giorno, signore, come sta ella stamattina?

Buon giorno, signora, come sta ella?

Benissimo per servirla, la ringrazio.

Signore, favorisca di sidersi, la prego.

Le sarò sempre intimissimo amico.

You cannot do better, sir, to divert yourself from affairs, than to travel through Italy. Should you enter it on the side of Venice, you will see a town, the only one in the world for its situation; but this is not the only thing which will surprise you.

Ferrara will offer to you a beautiful and vast solitude.

Bologna will present to your eye another fine prospect.

Do not forget Modena, as being the native place of the illustrious Muratori.

Good day, sir, how do you do this morning?

Good day, madam, how do you do?

Very well, at your service, I thank you.

Pray, sir, do me the favour to be seated.

I shall always be your most devoted friend.

Strange as this phrasology may sound to an English ear, it is indispensable to the Italian tongue, in speaking to one's superior, and chiefly to women above the common rank.

CHAPTER VII.

VERBS: Auxiliary; Regular; and Irregular.

Ob. 1. The personal pronouns io, tu, &c. are placed above the tenses of the verbs, in the following pages, to distinguish the persons; but it will be better to conjugate the verbs without them, except in the three persons singular of the present of the subjunctive, and the first and second persons of the preterite tense of the same mood, on account of a similarity in the endings.

2. As the persons who apply to the Italian tongue have commonly begun already to learn either the French, the Latin, or their own language by rules, we suppose them able to conjugate an English verb; therefore we have inserted the first person singular only, for the sake of brevity, and the neatness of the tables.

3. For the same reason we give the first person singular only of the compound tenses, as they are merely the repetition of the verbs essere or avere, with the participle part of any verb. Thus, when we have ho avuto, it is easy to add hai avuto, ha avuto, abbiamo avuto, avete avuto, hanno avuto, &c. &c.

4. There are four tenses in all verbs, whether regular or irregular, which have the same termination.

The Imperfect of the Indicative.

Conjugation of the Auxiliary Verb avere, to have.

INFINITIVE.

Present.	Avère, to have, to possess.
Imperat.	Avèndo, con avère, coll' avère, in avère, nell' avère, having, in having.
Participle past.	Avùto, ms. avùta, fs. avùti, m. pl. avùti, f. pl. had.

INDICATIVE.

Present Tense.	I have. Io, fu, egli; Ho, hai, ha; b, ai, à;	Compound Tense. noi, voi, egli, &c. abbiamo, avete, hanno.—ho avuto, &c. abbiamo, avete, hanno.	I have had. — I had had.
Written sometimes,
Imperfect.	I had. Avèva, avèvi, avèva;	avevamo, avevate, avevano.—aveva avuto.	— I had had.

Future.	I shall or will have. Avrà, avrà, avrà;	avrèmo, avrète, avranno.—avrà avuto.	— I shall or will have had.
Conditional.	I would, could, should have. Avrei, avrèsti, avrèbbe;	avrèmmo, avrèste, avrebbero.—avrèi avuto.	— I would have had.

* We likewise say, vo, vi, va; and perhaps vo should be preferred to va, as it distinguishes the first person from the third; but custom has prevailed, and va is now commonly used instead of vo.

SUBJUNCTIVE, OR POTENTIAL.

Present.	That I may have.	ch' egli ;	che noi ;	che voi ;	—that I may have had
ch' io,	che tu,	ch' egli ;	che noi,	che voi,	ch' egliuo.
Abbino,	Abbino & abbii,	abbia ;	abbiamo,	abbiate,	Abbiano.—abbia avuto.
Præterite.	That I might have.				—that I might have had.
Avessi,	avessi,	avessi ;	avessimo,	aveste,	avessero.—avessi avuto.

IMPERATIVE.

Abbi or Abbii tu, have thou ; Abbii egli, let him have ; abbiamo noi, let us have ; abbiate voi, have ye ;
Abbiano egliuo, let them have.

Conjugation of the Auxiliary Verb essere, to be

INFINITIVE.

Present.	Essere, to be, to exist.
Gerund.	Essendo, con essere, coll' essere, in essere, nell' essere, being, in being.
Part. past.	Stato, ma. stâta, fe. stâtta, m. pl. stâta, f. pl. been.

INDICATIVE.

Present Tense.	I am.	egli ;	noi,	voi,	Compound Tense. I have been.
Io,	tu,	egli ;	noi,	voi,	egliuo.
Sono,	sei,	è ;	siamo,	siate,	sono.—sono stato, &c. stati, &c.
Imperfect.	I was.				—I had been.
Era,	eri,	era ;	eravamo,	eravate,	erano.—era stato.
Præterite.	I was.				—I had been.
Fui,	fosti,	fù ;	fummo,	foste,	furono.—fui stato.
Future.	I shall or will be.				—I shall or will have been.
Sarò,	sarai,	sarà ;	saremo,	sarete,	saranno.—sarò stato.
Conditional.	I could, would, should be.				—I would have been.
Sarei,	saresti,	sarebbe ;	saremmo,	sareste,	sarebbero.—sarei stato.

SUBJUNCTIVE, OR POTENTIAL.

Present Tense.	That I may be.	ch' egli ;	che noi,	che voi,	—that I may have been.
Ch' io,	che tu,	ch' egli ;	che noi,	che voi,	ch' egliuo.
Sia,	sia & sii,	sia ;	siamo,	siate,	sia stato.—sia stato.
Præterite.	That I might be.				—that I might have been.
Fossi,	fossi,	fosse ;	fossimo,	foste,	fosseno.—fossi stato.

IMPERATIVE.

Sii, & sii tu, be thou ; sii egli, let him be ; siamo noi, let us be ; siate voi, be ye ; siano egliuo, let them be.

The reader must have observed, that the compound tenses of the verb essere are not formed as in English, by the help of essere, to have, but of essere, to be. So that, instead of saying, I have been, I had been, &c., the Italians say, I am been, I was been, &c.

Observe, also, that in conjugating the compound tenses of essere, the participle agrees always with the nominative ; so that a man must say, sono stato, and a woman, sono stata ; for men, siamo stati, and for women, siamo state, &c.

The verbs venire, to come, andare, to go, stare, to remain, are often used in the sense of essere ; as,

Egli vien riputato per un uomo dabbeno, he is looked upon as a very honest man. Ciò mi vien detto da molti, I am told so by many people.

Io vo facendo qualche cosa pel vostro vantaggio, I am doing something to your advantage. Avrà tosto rovinato, he will be soon ruined.

La cosa sta come vi dico, the thing is as I tell you. Stavamo leggendo quando vostro fratello entrò nella camera, we were reading when your brother entered the room.

Regular Conjugations in are, ere and ire.

These are three regular conjugations in Italian, distinguished by the termination of the infinitive.

- First, in are, ato, as, amare, amato, to love.
 Second, in ere, uto, as, credere, creduto, to believe.
 Third, in ire, uto, as, sentire, sentito, to hear.

Of the verbs in ere, some have the e long, as dolere, vedere, tenere; and the others have it short, as leggere, scrivere, perdere; but their manner of being conjugated is not affected by that.

IMPERATIVE.

Senti tu, hear thou; senti egli, let him hear; sentiamo noi, let us hear; sentite voi, hear ye; sentano essi, let them hear.

Conjugation of Verbs in iac.

Among the verbs of the third conjugation, ending in ire, many are irregular in the present of the indicative and subjunctive, and likewise in the imperative. All their other tenses are like sentire; and these we present here by their first person singular only.

INFINITIVE.

Blandire, blandendo, blandito, to caress.

INDICATIVE.

Present.	Blandisco, blandisci, blandisce; blandiamo, blandite, blandiscono.
Imperfect, &c.	Blandiva; blandivi; blandivo; blandivate.

SUBJUNCTIVE, OR POTENTIAL.

Present.	Blandisca, blandisca, blandisca; blandiamo, blandite, blandiscano.
Preterite.	Blandissi, blandissi, blandissi, &c.

IMPERATIVE.

Blandisci tu, blandisca egli; blandiamo noi, blandite voi, blandiscano essi.

Many of the verbs in ire, iaco, end likewise in are, o; as, colorare and colorire, to colour; indurare and indurire, &c. to harden.—Poets do not always observe the irregularity in iac, and they write equally offro, and offerisco, muggo and muggisco, langue and languisce, fare and ferisce, &c.

Conjugation of a Reflected and Reciprocal Verb.

Reflected and reciprocal verbs are conjugated alike in Italian. Si, joined to the infinitive, answers to one's self; and the persons in the other moods are expressed as follows:

Sing. mi, si, si; myself, thyself, himself, herself.
 Plural, ci, vi, si; ourselves, yourselves, themselves.

They seldom have the addition of the pronouns io, tu, egli, noi, voi, essi.

INFINITIVE.

Divertirsi, to amuse one's self.
 Divertendosi, amusing, or in amusing one's self.
 Divertitosi, having amused one's self.

INDICATIVE.

Present. I amuse myself, &c.

Sing. mi diverto, ti diverti, si diverte. Pl. ci divertiamo, vi divertite, si divertono.

And so on with the other tenses—mi divertiva; mi divertivi; mi divertivo; mi divertivate; ch'io mi divertessi; ch'io mi divertessi, &c.

IMPERATIVE.

Divertiti, amuse thyself; divertisi, let him amuse himself; divertiamoci, let us amuse ourselves, divertitovi, amuse yourselves; divertansi, let them amuse themselves.

The compound tenses are conjugated with the verb essere:
I have amused myself, &c. Sing. mi sono divertito; ti sei divertito; s'è divertito. Plur. ci siamo divertiti, vi siete divertiti, si sono divertiti.—And so for the other tenses: m'era divertito; mi fui divertito; mi sarò divertito, &c.—For the feminine: mi sono divertita; ci siamo divertite.

Remarks on here is, there is, &c.

The English adverbs here and there are expressed in Italian by ci and vi. Ci is commonly used when we speak of a place in which we are, and vi of a place in which we are not, as will appear in the following scheme:

Ci è, ci sono, there is, there are; here is, here are.
C' era, c' erano, there was, there were.
Vi fu, vi furono, there has been, there have been.
Vi sarà, vi saranno, there will be, sing. and pl.
C' era stato, c' erano stati, there had been.
V' era stato, v' erano stati, there had been.
C' è? ci sono? is there? are there?
C' era? c' erano? were there? were there?
C' era stato? c' erano stati? had there been?
V' è? vi sono? is there? are there?
V' era? v' erano? were there? were there?
V' era stato? v' erano stati? had there been?

Non c' è, non ci sono, there is not, there are not.
 Non c' era, non c' erano, there was not, there were not.
 Non c' era stato, non c' erano stati, there had not been.
 Non v' è, non vi sono, there is not, there are not.
 Non v' era, non v' erano, there was not, there were not.
 Non v' era stato, non v' erano stati, there had not been.
 Non c' è? non ci sono? is not there? are not there?
 Non v' era? non v' erano? were not there? were not there?
 Non vi fu? non vi furono? has not there been? have not there been?
 Non v' era stato? &c. &c. had not there been? &c. &c.

The tone of the voice marks the difference between a simple affirmation or a negation, and an interrogation. Thus:—C'è del pane, there is some bread. C'è del pane? is there any bread? Non v'erano molte donne nel giardino, there were not many ladies in the garden. Non v'erano molte donne nel giardino? were there not many ladies in the garden?

Remarks on the verb bisognare, in the sense of must and ought.

The verb bisognare is an impersonal verb of extensive use in Italian; and its correspondent English verbs, must and ought, not being impersonal, beginners fall into constant mistakes. To avoid this, let the English phraseology, I must go, you must go, he must go, &c. be turned into it must be that I go, it must be that you go, it must be that he goes, &c. and then the following examples will be readily understood and applied.

Bisogna ch'io gli parli, I must speak to him.
Bisogna ch'impariate questo, you must learn this.
Bisognerebbe ch'io lo facessi, I should do it.
Ci bisogna morire, we must die.
Vi bisognava vederlo, you ought to have seen him.
Bisognerà ch'egli mi paghi, he must pay me.

We see by these examples, that che, after this impersonal verb, requires the subjunctive.

Detached Remarks on Verbs.

1. The Italians use frequently the infinitives of verbs, instead of nouns substantives, for the masculine singular; as, il suo parlare m'annoiava, his conversation tires me; allo spuntar del giorno, at the break of day; si piangere nasce sovente dal ridere, tears often spring from laughter.

2. The infinitive is frequently used instead of the imperative, in negative phrases, chiefly in speaking to inferiors, or in poetry; as, non dir questo alla moglie, do not tell this to your wife; non chiederle se seno alla pietà, do not shut your breast to compassion; non ti lasciar vincere dall'ira, do not let yourself be conquered by anger.

3. The participle passive, conjugated with essere, agrees always with its nominative; as, la virtù è lodata, ma il vizio è tenuto a vile, virtue is praised, but vice is despised.

The participle conjugated with avere agrees generally with its accusative, when it is placed after that accusative; but it remains in the masculine singular, when it precedes its accusative; as, ho ricevuto la vostra lettera, I have received your letter; la lettera che ho ricevuta, the letter which I have received. Avessero fatto gran cose, they had done great things; le gran cose che avevano fatte, the great things which they had done.

The participles present having and being, joined in English to a participle past, are elegantly omitted in Italian; as, detto questo, uscì dalla camera, having said that, he went out of the room; uscita la predica, uscimmo dalla chiesa, the sermon being over, we left the church; vedutolo, having seen him.

Likewise, when, as soon as, or such like expressions, are not expressed in Italian, when they meet in English with the verb to have, or to be, joined to a participle past; as, fatto ch' ebbe, as soon as he had done; pranzato ch' accennò, when we had dined; venuti ch' furono, as soon as they were come.

4. The pronoun they, when used in the indeterminate sense of one, we, people, men, it is, it was, &c., is rendered in Italian by si; but by se, when it meets with me; and the verb is put in a reflected form, either singular or plural, as happens to be the noun to which it relates.—Sometimes the Italians employ a passive turn, peculiar to their language, with the help of the verb essere, which is often supplied by venire.—Let the following examples be carefully observed:

Si dice così;	It is said so.
Si dicono molte cose;	People report many things.
Si dirà, or dirassi che l'avete insultato;	They will say that you insulted him.
Si loda l'uomo modesto;	One praises a modest man.
Si lodano gli uomini modesti;	Modest men are praised.
Amasi, or si ama d'essere onorato;	One likes to be esteemed.
Sieguansi i grandi esempi;	Let us follow great examples.
Mi si domanda uno scudo;	They ask me five shillings.
Mi si domandano tre ghinee;	They ask me three guineas.
Che si dirà di voi se fate ciò?	What will be said of you if you do so?
Si direbbe, or direbbesi che siete uno spendaccioso;	One would say that you are a spendthrift.
Se ne saprà qualche cosa;	We shall hear something of it.
Non se ne parla;	People say nothing of it.
Cene sarà parlato;	They will speak of it to us.
Mi vien detto da molti;	I was told so by many people.
Vene verrà scritto;	They will write it to you.
Siete domandato;	Somebody asks for you.
Mi fù dato un libro;	I received a book.
Ci fù scritta una lettera;	They wrote a letter to us.
Vi saranno mandate molte lettere;	You will receive many letters.

IRREGULAR VERBS.

The following observations will greatly facilitate the general system of the Italian irregular verbs.

1. When a verb is irregular in the present of the indicative, it is always so in the present of the subjunctive, and in the imperative.

2. Verbs are irregular chiefly in the present of the indicative, the preterite of the same mood, and the participle past.

3. Some verbs in riete, liete, long, and in riete, and likewise some in riete and riete short, contracted in ovre and ovre, form their future and conditional in rirò and rirai; as, scattare, rirò, rirai; volere, vor- rò, vorrai; venire, verrò, verrai; porre, porrò, porrai; condurre, condurrò, condurrò, &c. &c.—Yare, siare, siare, take erò, erai, instead of erò, erai, in their future and conditional; fare, farò, &c.

4. Most of the verbs ending in liete and riete long, and in liete, and riete, take a g in their present tenses and in the imperative; as, tenere, to hold, tengo, tenge; dolere, to grieve, dolgo, dolga; salire, to leap, salgo, salga; venire, to come, vegno, vegna.

5. Some verbs in riete and riete drop the letter r in their present tenses and in the imperative; as, guarda, poia, to appear; morire, moia, and muoio, to die.

Caution.—In the tenses wherein will be found the first person singular only, the others may be formed easily by the General Paradigm (page 19.)

Thus, when you have crecco, cucco, andazai, &c., you have only to observe their proper tenses in the paradigm, and you will readily form crecco, cucco, andazai, &c. &c.

I. Irregular Verbs in are, care, gare.

Andare, dare, fare, stare, and the verbs ending in care and gare, are the only irregular of the first conjugation.

Infinitive. Gerund. Participle.

1. Andare, andando, andato, to go.

Ind. Vado or vo, vai, va; andiamo, andate, vanno. Andava. Andai. Andrò or andarb. Andrai or andarai.

Sub. Ch' io vada, vada, vada; andiamo, andiate, vadano and vadino. Andand.

Imp. Va, vada; andiamo, andate, vadano.

2. Dare, dando, dato, to give.

Ind. Do, dai, da; diamo, date, danno. Dava. Died. or detti, desti, diada or detti or dià; diammo, date, diedero or dettero or diarono. Darò. Darei.

Sub. Ch' io dia, dia or dii, dia; diamo, diate, diano or diano. Dand.

Imp. Da, dia; diamo, date, diano.

3. Fare, facendo, fatto, to do.

Ind. Fo, fai, fa; facciamo, fate, fanno. Faceva. Feci, fosti, (feci); facemmo, faceste, fecero. Farò. Farei.

Sub. Ch' io faccia. Facend.

Imp. Fa, faccia; facciamo, fate, facciamo.

4. Stare, stando, stato, to be, to live, to stop.

Prego, preghi, prega; preghiamo, pregate, pregano.

Precherò, pecherai.—pregherò, pregherai, &c. &c.

II. Irregular Verbs in ére long.

Ob. There are but four verbs in ére long, which are irregular in their participles; namely, parere, persuadere, persuaso; rimanere, rimasto; solire, solito. All the others make their participles in uto.

N. B. Let this remark be attentively considered.—The third person singular and the third person plural of the preterite tense of the indicative, are formed from the first person singular of that same tense; thus the second person singular, and the first and second persons plural, are commonly formed from the infinitive; as, from dolere, giacere, conoscere, &c. &c., are formed, Dolere, dolesti, dolse; dolemmo, doleste, dolevate.

Giacere, giacesti, giacque; giacemmo, giaceste, giaceste.
Conoscere, conoscesti, conoscete; conoscemmo, conoscete, conoscete.

Infinitive. Gerund. Participia.

1. Cadére, cadendo, caduto, to fall.

Ind. Cado or caggio, cadi, cade; cadiamo or caggiamo, cadete, cadono or caggiono. Cadeva. Caddi, esti, e; emmo, este, erono. Caderò. Caderai.
Sub. Ch' io cada or caggia. Cadessi.
Imp. Cadi, cada or caggia; cadiamo, cadete, cadano.

2. Dolérsi, dolendosi, dolutosi, to complain, to ache.

Ind. Mi dolgo or doglio, ti duoli, si duole; ci dogliamo, vi dolete, si dogliono or dogliono. Doleva. Doidi, dolesti, &c. Dorrob. Dorrei.
Sub. Ch' io mi dolga or doglia. Dolessi.
Imp. Duoliti, dolgasi; dogliamoci, dolétevi, dolgami.

3. Dovére, dovendo, dovuto, to owe.

Ind. Devo or debbo or deggio, devi, deve; dobbiamo, dovete, debbono or deggiono or decent. Doveva. Dovei or dovetti, dovesti, &c. Dovrò. Dovrei.
Sub. Ch' io debba. Dovessi.
Imp. Devi, debba; dobbiamo, dovete, debbano.

4. Giacére, giacendo, giaciuto, to lie down.

Ind. Giacco, giaci, giace; giaciamo, giacete, giacciono. Giaceva. Giacqui, giacesti, &c. Giaceva.
Sub. Ch' io giaccia. Giaccessi.
Imp. Giaci, giaccia; giaciamo, giacete, giacciano.

5. Tacére, tacendo, taciuto, to be silent.

Taccio. Taceva. Tacqui, tacesti, &c., like giacere.

6. Piacére, piacendo, piaciuto, to please.

Piacco. Piaceva. Piacqui, piacesti, &c. like giacere.

7. Sapére, sapendo, saputo, to know.

Ind. So, sai, sa; sappiamo, sapete, sanno. Sapeva. Soppi, sapesti, &c. Saprob. Saprove.

Scrivere	scripsi	scritto	— subscribe
Vivere	vixi	vissuto and vivuto	— live

15. Bers.—The verb bevere, to drink, is a regular verb, conjugated like credere; but it is often contracted in the following manner:—

Infinitive.	Gerund.	Participle.
Bere	bevendo	bevuto, to drink.
Ind. Berò, bevi, bevi, bevi		beviamo, beete, beete.
Beeva. Bervi, beesti, beesti		bevve; bevammo, beeste, bevvero. Berò. Berò.

Sub. Ch' io bea, beva, and bevva. Bevveal, and beval.

Imp. Bel, bea; beviamo, beata, beano.

This contraction has something uncouth, and is not adopted by correct writers; the regular form is by far preferable.

Amorere, pref. amora; part. amorto, to suck up, to absorb, is otherwise conjugated like credere; amoro, amorvera, amorbato, &c.

16. Arre; contracted from verbs in ere.

Verbs of this kind take commonly a double gg in the present of the indicative and subjunctive, and in the imperative; the preterite is made ari, the participle ato, the future ari, and the conditional ari.

Infinitive. Preterite. Participle.

Trarre and trarre trassi tratto, to draw

Ind. Trao and traggio, trai, trae; tralamo and traggiamo, trae, traono and traggono. Traeva. Traesi, traesi, &c. Trarò. Trarrei.

Sub. Ch' io traga. Traessi.

Imp. Trai, traga; traimo and traggiamo, trae, traano and traggano.

So are conjugated its compounds:

Infinitive.	Preterite.	Participle.
Astrarre	attrassi	attratto	to attract

IV. Irregular Verbs in ire.

Inf. Gerund. Prd. Part.

1. Dire, dicendo, dissi, detto, to say or tell.

Ind. Dico, dici, dice; diciamo, dite, dicono. Diceva. Dissi, dicesti, &c. Dirò. Direi.

Sub. Ch' io dica. Dicessi.

Imp. Di, dica; diciamo, dite, dicano.

Its chief compounds are, contraddire, to oppose; ridire, to repeat; maledire, to curse.

2. Morire, morendo, morii, morto, to die.

Ind. Moro and muoio, mori, more; moriamo, morite, morono, and muoiono. Moriva. Morii, moristi, morì, &c. Morrò and morirò. Morrei and morirei.

Sub. Ch' io mora and muola. Morissi.

Imp. Mori, mora; moriamo, morite, morano and muoiano.

The future and conditional morirò and morirei, are preferable to morirò and morirei.—Morirò and morirei are the preterite and participle of mordere, to bite.

3. Salire, salendo, salii, salito, to go up.

Ind. Salgo and saglio, sali, sale; salgiamo, salite, salgono and sagliono. Saliva. Salii, salisti, &c., sometimes sali, salisti, &c. Salirò. Salirei.

Sub. Ch' io salga and saglia. Salissi.

5. Venire, venendo, venni, venuto, to come.

Ind. Vengo, vieni, viene; veniamo, venite, vengono. Veniva. Venni, venisti, venne, &c. Verò. Verrei.

Sub. Ch' io venga, venga, venga; veniamo, venite, vengano.

Imp. Vieni, venga; veniamo, venite, vengano.

The letter g is sometimes found transposed in this verb and its compounds: thus, vegnò, vegnà, vegnono; instead of vengò, vengà, vengono.

The chief compounds of venire are, convenire, to agree, risolvere, to return, acconciare, to help, divenire, to become, avvenire, to faint, acconterire, to be unbecoming, pervenire, to come to, intervenire, to happen.

6. Uscire, uscendo, uscii, uscito, to go or come out.

Ind. Esco, esci, esce; usciamo, uscite, escano. Usciva. Uscii, uscisti, udisti, &c. Uscirò. Uscirei.

Sub. Ch' io esca, esca, esca; usciamo, usciate, escano. Uscissi.

Imp. Esci, esca; usciamo, uscite, escano.

7. Gire and iro, and sometimes gir and ir, are chiefly used in poetry, and they have the following tenses only:—

Gite, you go. Giva, givi, giva or gia; giravo, givale, givano, I did go, &c. Gii, gisti, gi or gid; ginno, giste, girano, I went, I have gone, &c. Girò, girai, girà; giravo, girete, giranno, I will go, &c. Girei, giresti, &c., I would go. Gissi, gisti, gisse; gissimo, giste, giscero, I might go, &c. Gito, gira, giti, gite, gone.

Ira, or ir, to go; ito, ita, ita, ita, gone.

Ira, he did go; ivano, they did go; irono and iron, they somit. Irb, irai, irà, &c., I will go. Irai, irerà, irebbe, &c., I would go. Ita, go ya.

Definitive.	Præterita.	Participia.
Aprire	aperai	aperto	to open
Coprire	copersi	coperto	— cover

Infinitive.	Præterita.	Participia.
Offrire	{ offerii }	offerta	to offer
Infuire	infusii	infusio	— influence
Apparire	{ apparvi }	{ apparito }	{ — appear
	{ apparii }	{ apparso }

CHAPTER VII.

LICENSES AND EXPLETTIVES.

Grammarians give the name of licenses to some peculiar changes which writers have made in the formation of certain words, either by lengthening or shortening them, or by altering their usual orthography.

1. The third person plural of the præterite tense of the indicative, ending in arono, is often contracted into aro; as, amaro, legaro, andaro, for amavano, legavano, andavano.

2. The letter v is frequently left out in some tenses, but chiefly in the imperfect of the indicative; as, avea, potea, finia, scriveamo, dea, deano, bea, bea, &c., for aveva, poteva, finiva, scrivevamo, dovevo, beve, beva, &c.

3. The letters ad are cut off in the participle past of verbs; thus, instead of colmato, adornato, ornato, domato, ceato, we find colmo, adorno, chino, domo, ceo.

4. The letter v is often found added, in ancient poetry, to the third person singular of the præterite tense of the indicative, and to some other words; as, amò, parlò, carò, fù, giù, giù, &c. for amò, parlò, carò, fù, giù, giù, &c.—Sometimes o is added to verbs ending in re; as, ropio, finio, empio, uocio, for ropi, fini, empì, uoci.

5. Sometimes g and gg are used instead of other letters; as, seggio, veggio, caggio, veggendo, cheggio, veggio, speggio, &c., instead of sego, vego, cado, vedendo, chiedo, vechio, specchio, &c.

6. We find e instead of a and i in the second and third person singular of the indicative; as, cefe for cea, cei; serfe for sera, seri, &c.

7. The articles dello, della, degli, dei, delle, are often written by the poets, de lo, de la, de gli, de li, de le.

Besides these licenses, the Italian poets employ many words seldom used in prose, by which they form a language peculiar to themselves; such are the following ones:

Aer for aria the air. Brando for spada, a sword. Carno for verso, verse or poem. Esca for cibo, food. Legno for vascello, ship. Lumi for occhi, eyes. Palma for mano, hand. Squilla for campanella, bell. Unqua, unquanche, unquanco, for mai, ever. [Vats for poets, a poet. Viri for uomini men, heroes, &c.—Chiefly Latin words, of which thousands will be found in reading the poets.

Expletives.—These are certain words which, in some particular locutions, cease to have any real meaning, and are employed only for the sake of greater emphasis, or more elegance and harmony. The Italians give to these expletives the name of ripieno, which literally signifies fill up.—The following words are those which are more frequently used as expletives:

Pure, mai, poi, gid, cori, mica, non, via, egli ella, esso, mi, ti, ci, vi, si.

Dite pur quel che volete; say whatever you please.
E pure ardite negarlo? and do you dare to deny it?

Ora sono pur disposti a venire; they are now disposed to come.

Torna mai sempre a dire di nuovo l'istesso cose; he is always repeating the same things.

Non è poi vero quanto mi diceste? is not what you told me true?

Non vorrei già ch' egli partisse; I would not be glad that he should go away.

Non credo già che ve n' arrete a male; I do not believe that you will be hurt by it.

Con esso lei, con esso loro; with her, with them.

La dottrina è di più gran prezzo che non le ricchezze; learning is of greater value than riches.

E' più dotto ch' io non credevo; he is more learned than I thought.

Io mi son giovinetta; I am young.
Io mi credo che non è vero; I believe that it is not true.

I giovani sono via più inclinati a' piaceri che non allo studio; young people are more inclined to pleasures than to study, &c. &c.

The limits of this short grammar do not permit me to be more diffuse; but I earnestly recommend to the learners to peruse all the idiomatical sentences inserted in the Dictionary, as this will greatly forward their progress in the Italian language.

H

THE letter h formerly claimed its place in the Italian as well as other languages. Modern writers, however, discard it as affording no increase of sound to

IDI

the vowels, and therefore useless.
 For instance, huomo is pronounced uomo. The same rule is observed in all words beginning with this letter; but, by putting it with the letters c and g, and the vowels e, i, the h, between c, or g, has the same sound as when the said two consonants are joined with a, o, u; as, chino, cheto, gherone, ghiro, which must be pronounced thus, chino, cheto, &c. It should, however,
 be used in the beginning of some words, as in ho, I have; hai, thou hast; ha, he has; hanno,
 they have; in order to distinguish them, more to the eye than to the ear, from o, or; a, to;
ai, to the; also, anno, year.
